

IN RESIDENCE

This is a unique opportunity with a distinct difference. It's not a replacement for your studies; it's an enriching addition to your design education.

We're offering a dedicated studio space nestled within our home in Brompton. No lectures, no tutorials, no assessments—just you, your creativity, and the space to flourish.

This is more than just a desk. It's your creative sanctuary to ideate, sketch, and bring your design visions to life.

This is not a job or another unpaid internship. It's a free space for you to focus solely on your university projects, with no expectation to work on our projects or assist our team.

It's about building a design community, connecting with fellow creatives, swapping ideas, sharing coffees, and beginning to understand the daily life of a design studio.

It's about a studio full of resources, a culture to help you thrive, and some friends to guide your growth.

If you are in your final year of Architecture or Interior Architecture and you're seeking an opportunity to enhance your design journey, then please, drop us a line with why you should be considered—no CVs, no portfolios, just words.
